all cases of which can be relieved by a mechanical support. It has been practically tested, and found to give the most perfect relief. It is light, durable, not liable to get out of repair, and can be perfectly fitted to any form or size; putting it on or laying it off is but the work of but half a minute; it fits so easy that one is hardly aware of its presence and the relief is immediate and delightful.

Many who have scarcely been able to walk across the room for years are enabled to walk with perfect comfort and security the moment after it is adjusted.

OF PHILADELPHIA.

The preliminary Course of Lectures will begin September 28, 1874, and the regular course on the second Monday in October following, and continues to the first of March following.

III. A medical library of nearly 2,000 volumes, to which students have free access.

Clinical and Didactic Lectures

—ON THE—

Diseases of Women,

— BY —

R. LUDLAM, M. D.

Clinical Professor of the Medical and Surgical Diseases of Women, in the Hahnemann Medical College and Hospital of Chicago.

Six-Hundred and Twelve Pages Royal Octavo, with a very copious index; heavy toned Paper, and best Leather Binding.

PRICE, $7.50.

C. J. HALSEY, Publisher,

No. 25 Washington Street, Chicago.

Dr. Ludlam has long been known, through his essays in the American Homœopathic Periodicals, as a successful cultivator of Obstetric Medicine and Surgery. These Lectures will certainly add to his reputation. They are thoroughly sound and practical in their teachings, and will be read with advantage by all practitioners.—The Monthly Homœopathic Review, London, England.

I regard this work of Prof. Ludlam's as most valuable to the profession, and destined to take high rank in the medical literature of the day.

PROF. J. C. SANDERS, M. D., Cleveland.

The cases are well selected and calculated to afford a great amount of instruction. The references from causes to effects are most happy, and the unraveling of the tangled skeins of disease action is frequently deeply interesting.—The Hahnemannian Monthly, Philadelphia

We advise every one of our readers to provide himself with a copy of Dr. Ludlam's book, and we desire to express our thanks to the author, as well as to the publisher, Mr. C. S. Halsey of Chicago, that they have placed within the reach of the profession a work so long needed.—Western Homœopathic Observer, St. Louis.

Apart from its practical useful character, this is one of the most readable medical works I have perused for a long time. I compare it to Sir Thomas Watson's work on the Practice, which I call classic medical literature.

B. J. McCLATCUX, M. D., Philadelphia.

Fortunate are the students who are privileged to listen to the teachings of so able a physician as Dr. Ludlam; and right gladly will our profession, both in this country and America, receive these advanced Lectures from one of the foremost practitioners in our ranks.—The Homœopathic World, London, England.

I shall be most happy to recommend this book to the students of the Boston University Medical School as by far the best treatise on the Diseases of Women which we possess.—J. H. WOODBURY, M. D., Professor of Gynecology.

The work deserves commendation for its clear and pleasing style—its art of putting things intelligibly, and the beauty of its typography and plan.—The United States Medical and Surgical Journal.

Each reader will surely find every page filled with carefully reported facts and observations, satisfactory and intelligible to the men who have seen much; and instructive as well as suggestive to all who earnestly desire to see and know more.—North American Journal of Homœopathy, New York.

This new work on the Diseases of Women, marks another era in Homœopathic medical literature. Dr. Ludlam's well known reputation in this department, will give the work all the introduction it requires.—American Observer, Detroit.

ROBERT BATY,

GENERAL MANUFACTURER OF

ARTIFICIAL LIMBS.

DR. BLY'S Patent Legs and Arms a Specialty.

No. 105 Wis. St. Rooms 15 and 16.

I desire to call the attention of my patrons and the public to the fact that this is the only establishment in the Northwestern States, where the well and favorably known

"BLY ARTIFICIAL LIMBS" ARE MANUFACTURED.

The material used in the manufacture of the Bly patent is furnished by Dr. Bly, at Rochester, as he is particular that none but the best material shall be used on his patent.

The following letter will explain to parties who were formerly supplied from Chicago, where they can get the genuine Bly Leg.

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 1, 1874.

ROBERT BATY, Esq., MILWAUKEE, WIS.

DEAR SIR:—You are now the ONLY party authorized to make my Patent Legs in the Northwest. There is no one in Chicago authorized to make any of my patents. You may advertise in the Chicago papers that there is no one in that city authorized.

Yours, &c.,

D. BLY.

I refer to the following Gentlemen who are wearing Limbs of my make:
E. FERGUSON, U. S. Pension Agt., Milwaukee, Wis. S. J. WILLIAMS, Milwaukee, Wis.
H. BOEBEL, Milwaukee. A. L. HASKELL, Oshkosh. A. H. ODELL, Fond du Lac.

And refers to DRS. MARKS, WOLCOTT, BARTLETT, CASTLEMAN, LEUTHSTROM, and CARLSON of Milwaukee.

To those who have been supplied with legs from my establishment let the work and wear be my recommendation. To you who are strangers, I would say that I guarantee first-class workmanship at fair prices. Parties in need of Legs or Apparatus are invited to send for price-list and circulars before ordering any inferior leg.

Very respectfully,

ROBERT BATY,

Oak Grove Sanitarium.

OAK GROVE SANITARIUM is pleasantly and healthfully situated in a grove of native oaks just south of the City of Kenosha, and nearly midway between Milwaukee and Chicago, on the Milwaukee Division of the Northwestern Railroad. The rooms are larger than is usual in such establishments, and many of them are on the ground floor, so that feeble patients have easy access to the grounds. There are more than one hundred feet of porch, and five hundred feet of plank walk. Patients find the facilities thus afforded for exercise very agreeable, the seclusion exempting them from that special attention to their dress, which becomes necessary in town. The physicians, Prof. H. P., and Mrs. A. M. GATCHELL, M. D., have had a varied and extensive experience in chronic diseases in the treatment of which class of diseases, they have won an enviable reputation. It is not necessary to enlarge on the advantages of having a lady physician, in the diseases of the sex. They bring into requisition Mann's Health Lift, Electricity, Baths, Homoeopathic Medicines, and whatever may contribute to the recovery of the invalid.

The water is obtained from a flowing well, and has been pronounced by a skillful and analytical chemist—Prof. R. G. HINSDALE, of Racine College—as, except a trace of Iron, a remarkably pure water. There is no such water, so far as we are aware, in connection with any establishment in the Northwest. Pure water can be medicated to suit any case of disease, but mineral water, which may suit some particular case, may be harmful to many others.

There is a platform a few rods from our place, at which the trains leaving the Wells Street Depot (Chicago) at 4:10 P. M., and the Kinzie Street Depot at 8 A. M., stop when requested by passengers. Notice of the time of expected arrival of patients should be sent in season for us to meet them, either at the Oak Grove, or at the Kenosha Station. Should the notice not reach us in season, those stopping at Oak Grove Station will find it but a short walk to the house, and those arriving at the Kenosha Station, will please ask to be taken to the office of Drs. Gatchell & Clary.

TERMS, ETC.—For board and treatment, $10 to $14 a week, in cases requiring no extraordinary attention. Relatives, and nurses accompanying patients, $4 to $7 per week—the price varying with room occupied.

Fuel is charged at cost; washing sent out, the washwoman's charge being 75 cents a dozen. Each patient should bring a comforter, blankets, two sheets, and four to six towels.

Letters should be addressed to the Kenosha P. O.: those on health, to the physician; those on business, to

H. P. GATCHELL, Jr.

Clinics.

Regular Clinics and Object Teaching will be held throughout the Course, at the City Hospital, Good Samaritan Hospital, and at the College Dispensary. The Clinical advantages of this College are unequaled by any Homœopathic institution in this country.

The Dispensary is open for the treatment of patients, medical and surgical, throughout the year, and clinics are held daily during the session.

The surgical clinic is under the supervision of the Prof. of Surgery, where operations will be performed before the class, and practical instructions given in that department. Out-door patients may be attended at their homes by the Second Course students, and obstetrical cases will be furnished those who are candidates for graduation at the ensuing Commencement.

Practical Anatomy.

The Dissecting Rooms will be opened on the 1st of November.

The study of Anatomy has been greatly facilitated by a recent act of our State Legislature, giving our medical colleges free anatomical material.

It is now made the duty of Superintendents of Public Hospitals to deliver to the medical colleges within the State the remains of such deceased persons as have not been claimed by friends or relations.

GRAND CHARITY FAIR.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Hahnemann Hospital,

Of Chicago, will give a Grand Fair in aid of that Charity, in the City of Chicago, in the month of November, 1874. It will be held day and evening for one week. The object thereof is to make this, which is the only Homœopathic Hospital in Illinois, and in the Great Northwest, FREE to all the deserving poor who need Medical and Surgical advice, and who prefer this method of treatment.

The HAHNEMANN HOSPITAL is an Institution which, during the four years of its existence, has done a great work. Hitherto it has been sustained by the liberal contributions of a few friends, the help of the Relief and Aid Society, and by resources derived from public and social entertainments, as well as from those patients who could afford to pay for a home with nursing and the proper care.

The Hospital Building is large, airy and healthful, with room for ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY beds, one-half of which are already furnished. If the full quota of beds were supplied, and the Charity FREE to those who must have treatment of some kind, and who PREFER TO BE TAKEN CARE OF WITHIN ITS WALLS, the wards would very soon be full, for patients are turned away daily for the simple lack of the means with which to take care of so many applicants.

The ladies therefore appeal most confidently to the friends of Homœopathy, whose charities may hitherto have been diverted into other channels, not to neglect or to overlook this opportunity of applying the principle of the Golden Rule to the sick and the poor.

They respectfully represent that the Society under whose auspices this Fair will be held, includes among its members about fifty of the most charitable, benevolent and influential ladies of this city, who have undertaken the good work of furnishing the means of keeping the Hospital in active operation, and of extending its usefulness. This society has detailed sixteen of its most efficient members to organize and perfect the arrangements of the Fair. Each of these ladies will be at the head of a Department, and they unitedly solicit the aid of our friends everywhere in making this enterprise as complete and as successful as possible. Contributions of money, or of material, of labor, or of articles already made, and of whatever can be utilized in this way, will be thankfully received. The details herewith given under the caption of the several Departments will facilitate the co-operation of all who will consent to aid us.
